Rain and Citizens, 'Kicks' Flood Offices at City Hall

Monday was a busy day around the city hall. Complaints came thick and fast regarding damages done by the heavy rain of Sunday night.

Most of these complaints were caused by storm sewers that are too small to function properly.

The rain came so suddenly and heavily that water backed up in the streets and sidewalks for several blocks and remained until sufficient time had elapsed for it to be absorbed by the earth.

A number of complaints were made by property owners, the basements of whose houses were flooded and contain two or three feet of water.

One man said his garage contained three feet of water, which came over the floor of his car and rendered it useless until the water was bailed out.

"That's nothing," Mrs. Frank Seaman, city auditor, to whom he made the complaint, told him...

Boy Struck by Auto Ask $50,000 Damage From Harry Stekoll

Damages of $50,000 for personal injuries sustained by Charles Jones, 11-year-old boy who was struck by an automobile in this city September 24...

The boy claims that he had alighted from a wagon near the intersection of Archer street and Rowland avenue when Jennings, driving Stekoll's car at a high rate of speed, struck him.

Nothing of his operation. The city wants people to see the building and witness the event in operation.

Most of them will be surprised to find a plant of its size and efficiency.

Most everyone in Tulsa knows there is a waterworks system somewhere, but they know little or nothing of its operation.

BUSINESS WOMEN TO PRESENT PLAY

Proceeds Will Be Used for Benefit of Club-house and Fund.

Preparation for the presentation of the play, "Oh! Oh! Cindy," by the Tulsa business and professional women's club during the fall for the benefit of their club-house fund will begin this week with the arrival this evening of an advance agent from the John B. Rogers company of New York city, with whom the club signed a contract during the summer.

Preparatory planning will be done by the club members and the company representative in collaboration and will be announced at the annual business meeting next Thursday evening.

The club members were especially invited guests at the open house held at the club-house last night.

lected in part before the coming of a second representative from the John B. Rogers company early in October to direct production of the play.

The play will be given in Convention hall at a date not yet determined upon.

Election of officers and further discussion of club-house plans will be important items on the docket for the business meeting. The house plan regarded with most favor is that of organizing the club into a corporate body, purchasing a house and selling stock at a specified sum upon which each member will receive interest.

The detailed outline of this plan will be presented next Thursday evening and also a method of management.

Date of the next dance in the series being given for increasing of club-house funds will also be set. The sum of $48 was netted from the first dance recently and the club members feel that with this background of experience they will be able to make the next dance more successful.

The club members were especially invited guests at the open house held at the club-house last night.

Keep Tab on Automobiles.

PONCA CITY, Okla., Sept. 22.—The local police department will soon have on file a complete description of every automobile owned in Ponca City, provided the plans of Paul Mead, chief of police, carry through.

Mead has requested every car owner to leave a complete description of his car at the central station, where blank cards are ready to be filled out.

The make, model, color, motor number, car number, transmission number, rear axle number, gear case number, and other data, his name and street address. In case a car is stolen, the police have all the details immediately.
